Raider Review — Menus

By Jane Guill

High spirits and excitement filled the halls of Appomattox County High School last week.

Monday, seniors received their announcements. It is beginning to be a very busy time for the seniors, it seems as though there is something to do everyday. Also exciting to the senior class was the announcement of valedictorian, salutorian, and honor graduates. Congratulations to Stella Osborne who was named valedictorian, and Kim Carter who is the salutorian. Besides Kim and Stella, there are nine other honor graduates. They are; Bruce Sanders, Robert Hubbard, Michael Richardson, Jane Guill, Connie Tolley, Kevin Moore, Diane Franklin, Angie Murray, and Tommy Gilliam. To be an honor graduate a student must have at least a 3.5 grade point average. The semester grades from the eighth, ninth, tenth, eleventh, and twelth grades and the fourth and fifth six weeks grades from the twelfth grade are averaged to determine the grade average.

The Traveler has arrived! That announcement was made Wednesday afternoon to the student body. As a privilege to the seniors, they were allowed to get their yearbooks Thursday, and underclassmen received theirs Friday. It is very difficult to concentrate in class while you are signing a yearbook, but it is a part of high school memories that a person can cherish forever. This year the Traveler's theme was "Surrender to Begin Anew." Miss Mary Lane is the advisor of the yearbook staff. Congratulations for a job well done.

The highlight of the week was the 1982 Junior-Senior Prom, which was Saturday, May 15. The theme for this year's prom was "Come Sail Away." The juniors did a beautiful job depicting this theme.

Wendy Lee and Tommy Smith were crowned prom king and queen. The prom court consisted of Zina Burns, Cornelius Davis, Angela Pugh and Ron Carter. The prom was an evening of elegant entertainment, as students and teachers danced to the music of Harvest. Mrs. Edwina Covington is the junior class sponsor. She and most of the juniors worked hard to make May 15, 1982 a night to remember for juniors and seniors at ACHS.

The end of the year is getting closer and closer. With the end of the year comes a great deal of activities, banquets, picnics, etc. It is a fun and rewarding time to be a student.

Eddie Agee in ROTC

Eddie Agee, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Agee of Appomattox, is enrolled in ROTC Basic Camp in Fort Knox, Kentucky. He will join students representing over 300 colleges and universities from the United States, Puerto Rico, the Canal Zone, Guam and Europe. Training is designed to develop in the cadet the physical and mental characteristics required of a junior officer of the arms and services.

Eddie is a rising junior at East Tennessee State University in Johnson City, Tennessee. He is working towards a B.S. degree in Criminal Justice.

Choral concert slated

The chorus classes of Appomattox County High School under the direction of Steven Lawrence, will present their annual Spring Concert on Thursday, May 27 at 7:30 p.m. in the high school auditorium.

The combined chorus classes are made up of students, grades 9-12. Selections included in the program will be "Three Hungarian Folk-Songs" by Matyas Seiber, choral selections from "Fiddler on the Roof," and "Chicago in Concert," a medly of popular tunes by the Rock Band, Chicago. The group will be accompanied by Susan Morris.

On the program the ACHS Chorale will perform a show titled "Picks of the Flicks." Featured will be hit songs from famous movies such as, "The Wizard of Oz," "New York, New York," "Endless Love," "The Jazz Singer," and "Fame." The Chorale will be accompanied by Debra Johnson and Scott Drinkard, piano; Allen Smith, Electric Guitar; and the ACHS Jazz Ensemble.

The public is cordially invited to attend.

'Poppy Days' set

"Poppy Days" will be observed in Appomattox on May 28 and 29. On these two days, members of the American Legion auxiliary with their helpers offer for sale small red poppies to the public. The money collected is used to help veterans and their families.

Wear a poppy: give what you can!

Connie Krantz is winner

Connie Krantz, a member of the Appomattox Senior Chapter of the Future Farmers of America, has been named area winner of the FFA Foundation award for dairy production. Connie, 16, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Krantz, Rt. 1, Spout Spring.

The proficiency award for dairy production is a special project of the National FFA Foundation sponsored by DeLaval Agricultural Division, Avco New Idea, and American Breeders Service.

Connie has worked with her father in the family dairy operation for the past two years as a part of her occupational experience program in agricultural education. She plans to return to the farm after attending college.

Her accomplishment t s will be judged along with four other area winners in determining the state winner. Presentation of the state award will be a program feature of the 1982 State FFA Convention at Blacksburg, June 15-18.

A SECOND MORTGAGE.
Home improvement without wrecking your budget.

This is the time of year when a lot of us start thinking about adding on a room or two to the old place. Or completely redecorating. Problem is that it costs a lot of money. And while you can afford to pay for it over the long haul, you just don't have that much money at one time.

There's an easy solution: a Central Fidelity Second Mortgage. With the equity you've been building up in your home you can borrow money for home fix-up, or any good reason. And you can take as much as ten years to repay.

Talk to a Central Fidelity Loan Officer about your money needs. And improve your home without wrecking your budget.

Encouragement and hope

By William L. Trimyer

Lord Over All

Lesson for May 23, 1982
Bible Study Passages: Revelations 19:11-16; 20:11-12

INTRODUCTION

The Revelation has as one of its predominent themes the encouragement and hope of those who are persecuted for their faith. The early Christians suffered under the cruel and rigid Roman authorities. John's vision from God was intended to show that Christ would ultimately triumph over the evil Roman powers.

But not only is the Revelation a vision of hope and encouragement, it is also a pronouncement of judgment. The vision reveals how Christ will ultimately se the whirlwind of judgment into motion against all those who bring persecution and suffering to His followers.

We do not like to ponder the notion of judgment. Perhaps some former experience or childhood memories causes us to tremble at the sound of the term judgment. We may even find it hard to think of Christ as judge. We know him as Savior and Shepherd, but to picture him as a vindicator of the righteous may be a little novel for us. This week's lesson gives us a glimpse of Christ's role as judge and vindicator.

The Enemies of Christ [Revelations 19:11-16]

Through the symbolism of John's vision we catch different moods and descriptions. One moment the people of God are celebrating and the next moment they are witnessing the destruction of their enemies.

The rider on the "white horse" in verse 11 is none other than Christ. He is not the "man from glad" but a Lord who is mad at the persecutors of the earth's righteous people. The "flame" in Christ's eye is his passion for vengence against the evil forces. He is King of kings and Lord of lords from whose mouth comes the judgments against the persecutors.

Christ is capable of both blessing and judgment. During his sojourn on earth he sought to bring blessing, healing and guidance to the eternal city, but in John's vision we see another side of Christ. The vision reveals how Christ will act decisively to bring an end to the evil powers of the beast (Rome) and ultimately over all evil at the end of the age.

The Dead Are Judged [Revelations 20:11-15]

When I attempt to interpret the Revelation of John, I do so with great humiliation. This book has been such a battleground for both scholars and lay readers.

It is unfortunate that which was intended to bring us encouragement and hope has created such discord amongst Christians.

Verse 11 of Chapter 20 is not clear as to who occupies the "great white throne." That is not nearly as important as what takes place around that throne. These verses point to an end time when all people will face a day of reckoning. It's no accident that the next chapter describes "a new heaven and a new earth."

I have always disliked the notion that God was a bookkeeper. I've imagined his fingers got awful sore if he tried keeping up with me! But to have one's name in God's "book of life" is to know forgiveness and assurance of life eternal.

According to the Revelation we are also judged by be a believer implies that we will also be obedient. As Deitrich Bonhoeffer wrote, "To believe is to our works, You can spot a follower of Christ by the kind of things they do. To obey, and to obey is to believe."

The test of discipleship is faith and not works. Our names are on God's mind and heart when we believe and live according to the demands of Christ.

The Pastor Speaks

By P. Edward Leonard, Jr.

A father read that a middle-aged man should not shovel wet snow because it could cause him to have a heart attack. So he asked his teen-ager, "Son, I shouldn't shovel wet snow. Would you do it for me? The son replied, "Yes, I will do it. I will do it immediately." And the father had a heart attack.

Jesus told a parable of a father who asked his two sons to work for him.

A man had two sons. He went to the first and said, "My boy, go and work today in the vineyard." "I will, sir," the boy replied; but he never went. The father came to the second and said the same. "I will not," he replied, but afterwards he changed his mind and went. Which of these two did as the father wished?

(Mt. 21:28f)

Jesus is dealing in that parable with insincerity and repentance. What it all hinges on is "the will" of the son who replied. You know what the answer is, as did the religious people of his day.

It is a great experience to ask a favor or share a task and, without equivocation, hear the person respond, "I will." It is even more pleasing to see that will acted upon. As in Jesus' parable, the truth of our will, the sincerity of our obedience will be in the fruit we bear. This is consistent with his closing sermon illustration of trees bearing fruit.

To will something is a powerful event. This is not "to will" your estate at your death. That too is a powerful expression. To will something is the sense of directing all energies, desires, thoughts to a purpose. It and all you do will be is the settlement of mental uncertainty or indecision. It is the total conscious process involved in making a decision, a choice, intention.

We have a lot of petty expressions of "I will get up...I will plan...I will see..." and so on. The will that belongs to faith in Christ is different. It is the will to make your life amount to something. It is the will to be happy in life. It is the will to work for a high goal, a high good. It is the will that narrows life into one purpose.

Most of you have a legal will which declares your wishes after death about disposing of property and estate. Have you ever written a personal will, a will that expresses your purpose in living?

Begin writing it today. For as you struggle to write it, you just may discover God's will for you, as pastor of Memorial United Methodist Church
